

Client: UNICEF

Publication: Time Out New York

Date: March 22-28, 2007

Circulation: 139,140

Eat outings

THU 22 WATER WORKS

Stay hydrated and give to charity on Thursday 22 by paying $1 for every glass of tap water you consume at more than 200 restaurants participating in UNICEF's Tap Project. A slew of celebs, like spokesperson Marcus Samuelsson (Aquavit) and actor Sarah Jessica Parker, will host dinner parties at eateries around town to support the campaign, which is raising cash to provide clean drinking water to children worldwide. Restos include Craft, Red Bamboo and Westville, and donations can also be made online. UNICEF's Tap Project. For more information and a list of participating restaurants, visit tapproject.org or call 212-922-2583.